

Henri Lefebvre – Notes on Spandrels

By Henri Lefebvre

I. Utopian spandrels – staircases as even practices

I imagine a lot of spandrels, in fact that is utopian architecture, a lot of that makes it utopian I mean. In fact then practices, which then mediate with coca cola, or even ideas of smoking cigarettes, and finally such cheap things as Ice Tea, and even finally labouring for University life.

II. Spandrels Further

A certain corner, a certain rhythm analysis of walks, and even finally buses.

III. Finally a Capitalist Functionalism

Now I want what is called capitalism, a cathedral or a passegenwork – arcades – shops, libraries, post-offices even finally forms of capital – cinema, software, computer shops, electronics.
